

EXECUTIVE OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT
OFFICE OF MANAGEMENT AND BUDGET
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20503

February 24, 2021

Statement from Acting OMB Director Robert Fairweather

Budgetary Impact Analysis for Executive Order Entitled “America’s Supply Chains”

This executive order specifies that it is the policy of the Executive Branch to strengthen the resilience of America’s supply chains. The order requires a comprehensive 100-day review of supply chains for certain key products and requires a one-year review of supply chains in certain key sectors, culminating in unclassified reports submitted to the President. These reports would assess the resilience of these supply chains and make recommendations on how to strengthen their resilience. Implementing this executive order would have no impact on costs and revenues to the Federal Government. The benefits of this executive order include providing a means of evaluating and strengthening American’s supply chains, which are a key component in ensuring American economic prosperity and protecting national security during an emergency. Implementing this executive order would have no impact on mandatory and discretionary obligations and outlays, as well as on revenues to the Federal Government, in the 5-year fiscal period beginning in fiscal year 2021. The agencies anticipated to be impacted by this executive order includes the Departments of Agriculture, Commerce, Defense, Energy, Health and Human Services, Homeland Security, and Transportation, and other relevant departments and agencies.
