Statement from Acting OMB Director Robert Fairweather

Budgetary Impact Analysis for Executive Order Entitled “Establishment of the White House Gender Policy Council”

This executive order establishes a White House Gender Policy Council to coordinate the Executive Branch’s policy efforts to advance gender equity and equality; to propose a government-wide strategy to advance gender equity and equality within 200 days of the order; and to conduct outreach, including with state, local, Tribal, and territorial governments, non-governmental organizations, and foreign government officials.

Implementing this executive order would have no impact on costs and revenues to the Federal Government. The benefits of this executive order include advancing gender equity and equality, with sensitivity to the experiences of those who suffer discrimination based on multiple factors including race, ethnicity, migration status, socioeconomic status, disability status, age, religion, gender identity, and sexual orientation.

Implementing this executive order would have no impact on mandatory and discretionary obligations and outlays, as well as on revenues to the Federal Government, in the 5-year fiscal period beginning in fiscal year 2021. The agencies anticipated to be impacted by this executive order include all Departments, specified agencies with the Executive Office of the President, the Small Business Administration, the Office of the Director of National Intelligence, the Office of Personnel Management, the U.S. Agency for International Development, and other agencies and offices as designed by the Council Co-Chairs.
