

OMB Report to Congress on United States Contributions to the United Nations and Affiliated International Organizations for Fiscal Year 2018

The following report on U.S. Contributions to the United Nations (UN) is prepared pursuant to section 312 of the Department of State Authorities Act, Fiscal Year 2017 (P.L. 114-323). Section 312 requires the Director of the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) to submit to the Congress a report on all assessed and voluntary contributions with a value greater than $100,000, including in-kind, of the U.S. Government to the UN and its affiliated agencies and related bodies during the previous fiscal year. For each U.S. Government department or agency, the report provides specific information as required by section 312, including: the responsible U.S. Government agency, the recipient UN entity, the amount obligated, a description of the contribution or other support, whether the contribution or other support was assessed or voluntary, and the purpose of the contribution or other support.

Additionally, the Department of State submitted to Congress a similar but separate report, on which OMB collaborated with the Department, which is available at: <https://www.state.gov/u-s-contributions-to-international-organizations-2018/>. The Department of State report includes contributions and other support to international organizations in which the United States participates as a member. The information describing individual contributions and other support in the following report is derived from the Department of State report. Amounts of the total annual contributions received by each entity were derived from public reporting made by the United Nations System Chief Executives Board for Coordination (CEB), where applicable, and from other sources published by the recipient entities, such as audited financial statements and annual reports.

The information in the following report includes financial and in-kind support, including assessed contributions, voluntary contributions, grants, and other assistance to international organizations. This report does not include information on contracts for goods or services provided to the U.S. Government, the costs to the U.S. Government of the salaries of American employees detailed to the secretariats of international organizations, or the costs of reimbursing international organizations for taxes that American citizens and legal permanent residents employed by the organizations pay to U.S. federal, state, and local governments. Contributions to international financial institutions such as the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development are not included in this report, but are the subject of a separate report by the National Advisory Council on International Monetary and Financial Policies.

The information included in the report was provided to OMB by the Executive Branch agencies identified in the report. Each participating agency was responsible for the completeness and accuracy of the information provided. Not all Executive Branch agencies provided information for inclusion in the report.

Based on the latest information provided by the Department of State and other agencies, the report also lists the approximate percentage of U.S. contributions to each entity compared with all the contributions to the entity in the relevant fiscal year. Most entities were not able to report based on the U.S. fiscal year (October 1-September 30), as they operate on a calendar-year basis (January 1-December 31).
