

EXECUTIVE OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT
OFFICE OF MANAGEMENT AND BUDGET
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20503

November 18, 2021

Statement from OMB Deputy Director for Management Jason Miller

Budgetary Impact Analysis for Executive Order Entitled “Termination of Emergency With Respect To the Situation in Burundi”

This executive order terminates the national emergency declared in Executive Order 13712 with respect to the situation in Burundi. The situation in Burundi has been significantly altered by events of the past year, including the transfer of power following elections in 2020, significantly decreased violence, and President Ndayishimiye’s pursuit of reforms across multiple sectors. Implementing this executive order would have no impact on costs and revenues to the Federal Government. The benefits of this executive order include enhancing ongoing diplomatic efforts by the United States to support reforms in Burundi to improve governance and human rights and pave the way for improved U.S.-Burundi relations. Implementing this executive order would have no impact on mandatory and discretionary obligations and outlays, as well as on revenues to the Federal Government, in the 5-year fiscal period beginning in fiscal year 2022. The agencies anticipated to be impacted by this executive order include the Departments of State and the Treasury.
