FY 2023 Funding Highlights

March 2022

Overview

“So tonight, I’m offering a Unity Agenda for the Nation. Four big things we can do together.

First, beat the opioid epidemic. There is so much we can do.

Increase funding for prevention, treatment, harm reduction, and recovery.

Get rid of outdated rules that stop doctors from prescribing treatments. And stop the flow of illicit drugs by working with state and local law enforcement to go after traffickers.

If you’re suffering from addiction, know you are not alone. I believe in recovery, and I celebrate the 23 million Americans in recovery.”

*- President Joe Biden
State of the Union Address, March 1, 2022*

The drug overdose epidemic has taken a heartbreaking toll on American families. Since 2016, overdose death numbers rose a staggering 44 percent, reaching a historic high of 91,799 confirmed deaths in 2020. This was a greater rate of increase than for any other type of injury death in the United States. Illicit fentanyl has been involved in more than half of these overdose deaths.

President Biden has made clear that addressing addiction and the overdose epidemic is an urgent priority for his Administration. The upcoming 2022 National Drug Control Strategy will call for immediate actions that will save lives in the short term and outlines long-term solutions to reduce drug use and its associated harms, including overdose. In order to curb this epidemic, the President’s 2023 Budget requests $42.5 billion for National Drug Control Program agencies, a $3.2 billion increase over the FY 2022 Continuing Resolution (CR) level<sup>1</sup>.

The Biden-Harris Administration has already made significant progress in addressing its drug policy priorities, including:

- President Biden signed the American Rescue Plan into law, which invested nearly $4 billion in expanding access to vital mental health and substance use disorder (SUD) services, including $30 million for harm reduction services like naloxone, syringe services programs, and fentanyl test strips.
- The Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) released a new Overdose Prevention Strategy that expands research of new and improved prevention efforts, invests in community resources to help prevent harms related to substance use, increases access to high-quality pain management to reduce preventable suffering, and promotes responsible prescription of medications to protect patient safety.

- The Administration made it easier for health care providers to prescribe buprenorphine to treat more patients with opioid use disorder; thousands of providers signed up to do this within a few months.
- The Administration also extended pandemic rule changes to allow:
  - people with opioid use disorder to begin buprenorphine treatment by telehealth, including phone consultation; and,
  - patients receiving methadone to take prescriptions home instead of visiting a clinic every day.
- The Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) revised regulations to allow treatment providers to operate mobile methadone vans, bringing treatment to rural, incarcerated, and underserved communities.
- President Biden announced two Executive Orders to counter transnational criminal organizations and illicit drug trafficking, first by formally establishing the United States Council on Transnational Organized Crime, and second, by modernizing and expanding the United States Government's ability to target drug trafficking organizations, their enablers, and financial facilitators through sanctions and other related actions.
- The Administration is providing resources to save lives through harm reduction efforts such as naloxone, syringe services programs, and drug test strips. Funding for these efforts in HHS include a requested $85.0 million for the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and other HHS agencies such as the Substance Use and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA). In addition, the Bureau of Prisons' request includes $0.1 million for naloxone for incarcerated individual and staff who may be responding to institution emergencies.

This document focuses on proposed investments in the 18 National Drug Control Program Agencies, but we recognize that making progress requires collaboration among federal, State, local, and Tribal communities across the country. Although financial resources cannot solve this crisis entirely, we hope that this increased level of support enables the dedicated prevention, treatment, recovery, and harm reduction workforce to reach more Americans impacted by this epidemic, and strengthens our efforts to stop the flow of illicit drugs into American communities.

Immediately below are descriptions of some of the programs and activities, by Department, that support the President's drug control policy priorities. Following that information, detailed data on overall spending is provided, with tables focusing on prevention, treatment, domestic law enforcement, interdiction, and international efforts. Following that functional breakdown is a summary table providing historical trends in spending. The more comprehensive FY 2023 National Drug Control Strategy: Budget Summary will be released in the months to come.

AmeriCorps

- AmeriCorps is requesting $40.9 million in FY 2023 in drug control funding for federal grant and program dollars associated with AmeriCorps State and National, AmeriCorps VISTA, and AmeriCorps Seniors projects, in which some or all of their national service participants are explicitly focused on opioid or substance misuse activities.

Department of Agriculture

- The FY 2023 request for the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) totals $21.3 million in resources for prevention, treatment, and domestic law enforcement efforts.
- The USDA is requesting $11.4 million for its efforts at their office of Rural Development (RD). USDA's request for RD includes funding for infrastructure projects that will help meet the needs of people with substance use disorder (SUD) in rural communities, such as telemedicine networks and brick-and-mortar treatment facilities.
- The FY 2023 USDA request also includes $9.9 million for the U.S. Forest Service (USFS) to continue efforts to keep the national forests free of dangerous drug operations. The USFS works to identify, investigate, disrupt, and dismantle drug trafficking organizations responsible for large-scale illicit marijuana grow operations on National Forest System lands.

Court Services and Offender Supervision Agency of the District of Columbia

National and Regional Significance – Prevention, Programs of National and Regional Significance – Treatment, and Health Surveillance and Program Support.

- In FY 2023, Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) is requesting $922.0 million in drug control funding. In FY 2023, HRSA will continue to invest in initiatives and support evidence-based strategies that address the specific SUD issues and behavioral health services needs in rural communities. The FY 2023 Budget Request will fund new and continuing grants and cooperative agreements for the Rural Communities Opioid Response Program (RCORP) to strengthen the infrastructure and capacity within rural communities at high risk for SUD and provide needed prevention, treatment, and recovery services to rural residents. This request will also enable HRSA to continue expanding RCORP's focus to include other, emergent behavioral health needs in rural communities.

Activities within each of these pillars support multiple ONDCP drug policy priorities.
- In FY 2023, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) are estimated to spend $11.2 billion for drug control efforts. This estimate reflects Medicaid and Medicare populations and an inflation to account for the Medicare Advantage plans population (excluding Part D) benefit outlays for SUD treatment. Overall, year-to-year projected growth in SUD spending is a function of estimated overall growth in CMS spending.
