OFFICE OF MANAGEMENT AND BUDGET
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20503

Statement from OMB Director Shalanda Young

Budgetary Impact Analysis for Executive Order Entitled “Revitalizing Our Nation’s Commitment to Environmental Justice for All”

This executive order would modernize and improve how the Federal Government confronts environmental injustice and incorporates lessons learned since Executive Order 12898 (Federal Actions To Address Environmental Justice in Minority Populations and Low-Income Populations) was issued in 1994. Implementing this executive order would have de minimis impact on costs and revenues to the Federal Government. The benefits of this executive order include better protecting overburdened communities from pollution and environmental injustice, addressing barriers to community participation in Federal decision-making, and embedding environmental justice into the DNA of Federal agencies. Implementing this executive order would have de minimis impact on mandatory and discretionary obligations and outlays, as well as on revenues to the Federal Government, in the 5-year fiscal period beginning in fiscal year 2023. The agencies anticipated to be impacted by this executive order include all executive agencies, as well as independent regulatory agencies that choose to implement the policies set forth in the order.
